

Call for papers

We invite you to contribute a review article to REVIEWS ON ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH.

We support fast publication. This means that articles will be published online ahead-of-print immediately subsequent to proof corrections. Of course, the print will be done for the whole issue together, increasing visibility for all authors participating in the issue.

Outstanding papers will be freely accessible. We want to emphasize that there will be no page charges and no charges for color illustrations.

REVIEWS ON ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH is an international quarterly periodical that aims to fill the need for rapid publication of specialized comprehensive review articles on hot topics in the field of environmental health. REVIEWS ON ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH aims to be an inspiring forum for scientists, environmentalists, physicians, engineers, and students who are concerned with aspects of human health, including quality of life, that are determined by physiological and psychosociological interactions between man and physical, chemical, biological, and social factors in the environment (please visit the journal's website at <http://www.degruyter.com/reveh>).

Authors who submit a grant application and do a comprehensive review of the subject as background for their research application, should consider using that background material as a paper to be considered for publication in REVEH. Also outstanding graduate student papers and thesis, especially when they are comprehensive reviews of the background of their research, will be considered for publication in REVEH.

REVEH is indexed at Pubmed , and provision is made for the application procedure at the ISI Web of Knowledge.

The Editors-in-Chief of the journal, Dr. David O. Carpenter and Dr. Peter Sly, would be very honored if you accept this invitation to contribute to our journal! Please submit your paper at <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/reveh>.
